By logging in to RichLifeClub.com, you agree to and are bound by its Terms of Service and all of its Website Usage Policies, including the Forums Usage & Member Email Policy below.

If you have any questions or problems, please feel free to contact our Support Team by logging into the Site, clicking on “Support” and submitting a Support ticket.

Forums Usage & Member Email Policy:

1. Spamming and trolling of fellow Rich Life Club members are not allowed. While we encourage members to network and share information, the best way to do that is by posting your own information in the Forums for other members to view or by contacting a specific member with a communication (email) specific to that member. Trolling is misuse of the RichLifeClub.com site in a fashion which interrupts forum activity and intentionally violates our site policies. Spamming is defined as sending more than 10 unsolicited emails to other members within a 24-hour period. Please report members who are clearly trolling or spamming by clicking on the “Report Bad Post” button in the Forums.

We archive communications between members for a period of at least 90 days and will monitor these records for spammers. If you are caught spamming other members, your ability to contact members through the Site will be suspended pending investigation of your communication activities. If you are found to have violated our anti-spamming rules, you may lose the right to view other members’ information, send member communications through our system and/or your membership to RichLifeClub.com may be terminated without refund.

2. Avoid using your real name as your screen name. Remember, the RichLifeClub.com Forums are read by thousands of members from around the world. Unless you want everyone to know who you are, keep your identity protected. You can choose a nickname that will be displayed in place of your real name by updating your Rich Life Club member profile. Go to “my profile”, type in your chosen nickname and click “submit”.
3. You may also edit your email preferences by going to “my profile” after logging into the site. The system default is to hide your personal information, including your personal email address, from being viewed by other Rich Life Club members. Members will still be able to email you through the RichLifeClub.com’s email system, but they won’t be able to see your personal email address. If you wish to allow other members to see your personal information, simply uncheck the box. You may also keep other Rich Life Club members from emailing you at all by checking the appropriate box in your profile section.
4. Use the search functions. The RichLifeClub.com Forums contain a lot of great information and potential contacts for you. You can search for a topic or word by clicking on “search” in the upper right of the Site. Results for all content on the site and Forum posts will be displayed.
5. Be courteous. While debating and discussion are fine, we will not tolerate rudeness, insulting posts, personal attacks or purposeless inflammatory posts. We reserve the right to remove offensive posts without notice. Rich Life Club Administrations’ decisions are final in these matters.

6. Illegal means “not legal” and we don’t tolerate those kinds of posts. Discussion of illegal activities such as software and music piracy and other intellectual property violations are not allowed.
7. Get a room! We also do not allow posts that are sexual in nature or violate RichLifeClub.com community standards. The RichLifeClub.com Administration team shall be the sole arbitrator of what does and what does not violate community standards.
8. Use the "Report Bad Post" button to report inappropriate posts. It's located at the bottom left of every post on the site. It immediately alerts the moderators.
9. Stay on topic. Our membership encourages open discussion and debate as long as it relates to the topic of the thread at hand. Posts which do not relate to the original purpose or topic of the thread may be moved to a more appropriate location. Also, please refrain from posting meaningless threads, one word (or short) nonsense posts or similar posts. Multiple or repeated posting in order to increase your post count is not allowed.
10. Respect copyrighted information. Copying information from other websites and posting it in our Forums hurts those sites' abilities to generate revenue. It's better to post a link to desired information. This also applies to respecting the copyright laws as they pertain to information contained on the RichLifeClub.com website.
11. Please show respect for the time, effort and money invested into giving you a fabulous website. While we are quite happy to have constructive comparative conversations about competitor's products, we will not tolerate blatant advertisements. Also, we would appreciate it if you refrain from blatant bashing of other boards.
12. Lost in translation: If you are going to post non-English on these forums, please also post an English translation of your post.
13. Once you've posted on the site, it's there forever. We do not delete posts except in extreme cases. Even if we can remove a post that you regret posting, they are often permanently cataloged in sites like Google or the Internet Archive.
14. Also while these rules cover most common situations, we cannot anticipate everything. Consequently we reserve the right to take any actions we deem appropriate and to amend these rules in order to ensure the Forums are not disrupted or abused in any way.
15. Be sure to have fun! The contents and features on RichLifeClub.com are meant to elevate you to greater levels of success and personal happiness. We're all in it together and we're here to help each other. So, pull up a chair and enjoy the RichLifeClub.com Forums!
